The Sheriff of Nottingham also loves Lady Marion and thinks of a plan to kill Robin Hood. He gathered up some Robin Hood haters and gave them lots of money as incentive to kill Robin Hood, they all agreed and planned to have a meeting a day after. Little did the Sheriff know, one of the 'haters' was actually a spy of the merry-men.

Unfortunately, on the day of the meeting, the spy was suddenly sick and could not participate in the meeting. So, whatever the plan was, the spy could not tell Robin Hood what the plan was. This totally ruined Robin Hood's original plan.

It was finally the day of the murder, since that spy was absent from the meeting and did not know how to help Robin Hood, he left the murder group before anyone noticed.

Because the spy couldn't help defend Robin Hood, the murder was very successful and even killed some of the merry-men. Lady Marion was forced to marry the Sherriff of Nottingham and had an awful life in the end.
